Live Bill Tracker

---

The Session Ends...

The House and Senate both met on Thursday and finished their work for the 2024 legislative session. With some notable exceptions, both chambers approved the committee of conference reports, so most of the results described in last week's Legislative Bulletin remain unchanged. Many bills are now on their way to the governor, and will be signed into law—or, in some cases, may be vetoed or become law without his signature—over the next two months or so. We will publish our Final Legislative Bulletin, summarizing all new laws of municipal interest, by mid-August, depending to some extent on how quickly the bills get signed.

If you are wondering when a particular law will take effect, look at the “effective date” section at the end of the bill. Many bills state a firm effective date, such as January 1, 2025. Others state that they will become effective “upon passage,” or 30 or 60 days after passage. For this purpose, “passage” means signature by the governor. So, if a bill states that it will take effect 30 days after passage, and the governor signs it on July 7, the effective date is August 7.

The legislature will meet one more time, probably in late September or early October to consider bills that have been vetoed by the governor. It takes a two-thirds vote by each chamber to override a veto. We do not anticipate a veto of any bills NHMA has followed closely—but, as we have said many times before, anything can happen.

...But There's No Time to Slow Down

Given that the legislative session ends in mid-June (end of June in budget years), and the next one does not get underway until January, the government affairs staff are sometimes asked: What do you do all summer? Maybe we take three-month vacations or spend the summer working as house painters, landscapers, or lifeguards. Not quite.

Among other things, we will produce our Final Legislative Bulletin; oversee NHMA's legislative policy process (see separate article); monitor study committees and commissions; work with legislators on next session's bills and begin planning legislative initiatives for next year; and catch up on other administrative matters that have not gotten our full attention over the last five months. In addition, the government affairs staff have significant non-legislative duties, including responding to legal and finance questions from our members, giving presentations to various groups, participating in webinars and workshops, and assisting in planning NHMA's annual conference. And finally, yes—we do take some vacation time.

As we move into the fall, we will start to contact legislators (once we know who they are, or at least who they are likely to be) to discuss legislation for 2025 and look to understand state budget priorities. After the elections, we will shift into full gear, preparing for the excitement of another legislative session!

Final Action on Bills

Legislative Policy Process Update

The first phase of NHMA's 2025-26 legislative policy process has been completed. The three legislative policy committees, comprising over 50 local officials from 44 municipalities, spent several weeks reviewing existing legislative policies and new proposals. They have made their recommendations, which will be sent to all member municipalities later this month. We will ask municipal governing bodies to review the recommendations, establish positions on them, and appoint a delegate to vote at the NHMA Legislative Policy Conference on Friday, September 27, 2024 at 9:00 am. Members will also have an opportunity to submit policy floor proposals, which are due by Friday August 9.
